Firemen's Ball Set Saturday

More than 3,000 tickets already have been sold for the 19th Annual Firemen's Ball, scheduled for Saturday evening, and sponsored by the Widows and Orphans association of the Daly City Fire department, according to Al Sundstrom, president of the association.

Association members expect the Jefferson high school auditorium will be jammed to the rafters by Saturday evening. The event will open at 8 p.m., with dancing to continue until 1 a.m.

The dance originally was scheduled for the new Community Center building, but the carpenters' strike necessitated the move to the Jeff hall. Otherwise, everything is going according to plan.

The main thing about a dance, of course, is the dancing, and Sundstrom said the association is proud to announce that Fredric Howard and his "Band of Gold" will furnish the music. This aggregation recently completed an 18-week tour which included the Palace and St. Francis hotels, the Redwood Bowl, and the Marin Town and Country Club.

Before the dancing starts, however, six variety acts will be presented for the pleasure of the audience. "The entertainment alone is worth the price," Sundstrom said.

Also among the nationally recognized artists who have been engaged for the stage show to be given between dance numbers are Charlie Rains, who appears on Milton Berle's TV offering from time to time; Pogie Pogie, New York comedian; Terri Andre, billed as "sophisticated, sultry songstress—the darling of the night spots;" and Medley and Dupre, who have appeared on the Sid Caesar—Imogene Coca TV show.

Russ Byrd, who just concluded an engagement at the Flamingo Club in Las Vegas, will be master of ceremonies.

Sundstrom reports all profits derived from the dance will be apportioned to youth organizations for welfare work.

Voters Approve Tax Measures Friday In Elections Here

Trustees For Both Districts Elected

The voters in the Jefferson high school and elementary school districts went to the polls last Friday and expressed confidence in their officials as they passed special tax issues.

In the high school district the voters maintained the present $1.35 tax limit. Voting was: yes, 1465; no, 553.

In the elementary district citizens raised the tax rate from 93 cents to $1.53. Voting was: yes, 1161; no, 404.

Mrs. Helen Cheatham, incumbent, garnered 869 votes to retain her seat on the elementary district board of trustees. Claude E. Hanrahan lost out with 644 votes.

In the high school district complimentary votes went to Mrs. Anne M. Eason, incumbent, and Elio Fontana, who were unopposed. The other incumbent, Peter Markovich, did not seek reelection as trustee.

Mrs. Stella L. Jensen, incumbent with 3756 votes, and U. S. Simonds Jr., incumbent with 3505 votes, were elected to the board of trustees for San Mateo junior college.

Westlake Woman Named Member Of Recreation Com'n.

Mrs. Ann Carlson, 125 Westdale avenue, will be appointed to fill the vacant seat on the Recreation Commission by the city council Monday evening.

The Westlake woman will fill the post recently vacated by the resignation of Edward Dennis. Dennis, who served on the Commission for a year, resigned when he was elected to the city council.

This now will give Westlake two members on the Commission. Chairman of the organization is George Pingry, who is also president of the Westlake Property Owners association.

Mrs. Carlson is secretary of the Westlake PTA, taught dramatics and adult education at the University of California; directed a successful pageant for the American Legion; is a leader in Camp Fire Girls activities; and has been generally active in recreation work.

Other members of the Commission include: Ed Cavagnero, James Hinds and Mrs. Ann Eason.

Bloody Arrow Clue To Dastardly Crime

Swift and bloody death struck down a youth on the streets of Daly City Sunday evening, but police were strangely calm and indifferent to the whole thing.

A housewife living on Vista drive frantically called the local boys in blue, and said she had just seen four or five boys drive by in a car, slow it suddenly and push out a companion.

The boy thrown from the car reeled in agony, an arrow sticking from his body, covered with blood. He staggered into a vacant lot and collapsed.

But the boys returned and dragged their mortally wounded companion into the car, then drove off rapidly.

Officer Jim Welsh responded to the call and closely questioned several witnesses. It had all the earmarks of a major crime, Welsh reported back, except for one slight detail.

Testimony from all witnesses revealed each boy in the car was calmly eating a double-decker ice cream cone during the bloody episode. Odd behavior on the part of four or five young killers.

Also, Welsh noted, it is rare when a victim is felled with an arrow in these days of machine guns, revolvers, atomic bombs and such.

Recalling a similar incident recently in Marin county, where a gang shot it out in front of a theatre, only to have the "dead" bodies come quickly to life on arrival of the police.

Sure, the whole thing was a hoax, nevertheless police carefully checked out all leads—just in case. Not a corpus delicti to be found anywhere.

AWOL Marine Lands In Belli Home; Routed Few Minutes Later By Housewife

Twenty cents in cash, a matchbox cover valued at 50 cents and a few pieces of candy was the loot taken by an AWOL 18-year-old Marine Corps private, who burglarized the home of Joe Belli, 1547 Sweetwood drive last night, May 21, according to Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt.

Using an expensive hunting knife, he entered the house by breaking in a French door at the rear of the house after first attempting to jimmy a safety-locked window.

The alleged burglar is Pfc. Richard E. Hines, absent without leave from a Marine Corps establishment near San Diego. He was apprehended hiding under a bed at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hines, 66 DeWolf street, San Francisco.

According to Schmidt, Hines entered the Belli residence at approximately 5:15 p.m. yesterday evening. A neighbor, Mrs. Richard Bocci, 1544 Sweetwood, reportedly saw him arrive in a taxicab, try the front door, and go to the rear of the house.

He was discovered at 5:25 p.m. by Mrs. Belli when she returned to her home. As she entered the house, Mrs. Belli saw the burglar run down a hallway from the front bedroom, dash through the dining room and out the broken French windows. He then leaped over a rear fence and disappeared down Annie street.

The Chase
Mrs. Belli attempted to chase him, then returned to the house and called Broadmoor Police.

Independent Post Office Backers Expected To Ask Officials For Action

Daly City is going to have a post office independent of San Francisco—at least if 3,000 residents have their way.

Mickey DeBernardi, who is spearheading the drive for an independent department, reported this week he now has "well over 3,000 signatures" on a petition calling for such action.

Furor Over Dogs Subsidies Here As Citizens Cool Off

However, Rover Is Still Taking Bites

Man's best friend was still taking an occasional nip out of local residents this week, but the Garden Village furor over two dogs alleged to attack children has abated.

Daly City police report that 12-year-old Margaret Smith was attacked and bitten by a dog Tuesday, May 20, while waiting for a school bus. She was treated by her family physician.

In the Broadmoor area, a mailman and a four-year-old girl also were bitten recently. Richard A. Wolf, 157 Miriam street, Daly City, was reported bitten May 14 by a dog belonging to James W. Mackintosh, 744 Washington street. He was treated at Junipero Serra hospital.

Four-year-old Judith Ceige, 1663 Sweetwood drive, was bitten May 8 shortly after noon. In addition, two nuisance cases involving dogs are scheduled to come up before Judge William J. Sweeney's Daly City police court.

The dogs that bit Wolf and Judith have been impounded at their own homes for the period required by law.

Letter Made Public

Yesterday, Dr. Harold D. Chope, county health director, made public a letter that brought satisfied comments from Garden Villagers who last week complained of two dogs that were allegedly attacking both children and adults in their area.

Addressed to Mrs. Raymond Terrill, 33 Garden Lane, owner of the dogs, the letter reads in part: "We have had your two dogs under observation for over a week . . . (Continued on Page 2)

Auxiliary Police Need Volunteers

Volunteers for Daly City's auxiliary police force are needed for immediate training, Sgt. Dave Hansen, auxiliary instructor, announced today.

Courses in police training are tentatively scheduled to begin next week. Those interested are asked to sign up at the police station, City hall, 75 Wellington avenue. When they sign up, full information will be given as to time and place of the auxiliary instruction. Purpose of the volunteer force is to aid the regular department during an emergency. The auxiliary will also be a great help during an enemy attack.

According to Sgt. Hansen, instruction includes a two-hour lecture one night a week; two to eight hours of duty in a patrol car with a regular officer; and field training in mob and riot control.

City Administrator's Position More Clearly Defined By Council

An internal shake-up in city administration policy took place Monday night as the city council defined, and gave more power to City Administrator Dan Andersen.

The meeting, attended by all the city department heads, was planned to bring fuller cooperation and understanding between city employees and the public.

Andersen said too often these city officials were carrying their troubles to individual councilmen in an effort to get around the Administrator. This, Andersen asserted, has resulted in much wasted motion and general inefficiency. The council (at least the three members in attendance—Edward Dennis, Joseph Verducci and Jim Kennedy), agreed with Andersen. Henceforth department heads are instructed to deal directly with Andersen, or with the city council as a group.

"The council is the policy making board, and I am the administrator of that policy," Andersen explained. "We must work as a team, and I hope this new move will help."

Vickers Elected Assn. President

Sanford Vickers is the new president of the reorganized Edgewood Hillside Civic Improvement Association.

He and other officers were elected at a meeting of the association last Monday evening. New officers include: K. VanAkin, vice-president; Wayne Carr, secretary; L. A. Bach, treasurer.

Vickers pointed out while the group of civic minded residents have only completed reorganization of their association, they have already accomplished much.

"With the help and cooperation of the police department and city council we now have stop signs on Hillside boulevard," Vickers said.

The new president also declared local businessmen have been extremely cooperative in helping the organization.

"This cooperation between our city government, local business and the residents and property owners, should without question make our community a much better place in which to live," Carr, the new secretary, concluded.

Red Cross Benefit Whist Set For Tomorrow Night

Colma Community Center hall, on Dunks street, will be the site of a benefit whist to be given this Friday, May 23, by the Colma Red Cross, reports Mrs. Margaret Pauline Brown, general chairman of the Colma chapter.

Beginning at 8 p.m., proceeds of the whist will go to the chapter fund. Tickets which may be purchased at the door, are 50 cents.

"We are greatly encouraged by the generous support our local community groups are giving to the whist," said Mrs. Brown.

On the committee in charge are: Mrs. Thelma Beckerman, Mrs. Melanie Bocci, Mrs. Louise Brent, Mrs. Mamie Conserva, Mrs. Margaret Damon, Mrs. Marge Hopper, and Mrs. Brown.

RUNAWAY CAR HITS SIGN

Police cited Harold H. Chouinard, 167 Los Banos avenue, Tuesday after he had incorrectly parked his car at the rear of his home and it rolled down the street, smashing into an arterial sign at Knowles and Los Banos.

County Cuts Back Budget Expenses

In an effort to reduce county government costs the board of supervisors this week cut $643,928 from departmental requests in the 1952-53 budget.

Prospective budget for the next fiscal year stands at $12,588,413. The one for this year was higher, $12,688,474.

The cuts have been necessary to compensate for the recent 50 per cent across the board hike in county assessed valuations. The raise, which went into effect on March 1, will mean the county will have to reduce the initial tax rate if taxpayers are not to be swamped by an excessive tax bill.

The preliminary budget will go up for public hearing June 10, with the tax rate being set later in the month.

Burglars Get Away With $100 From Donut Shop

Police this week were still investigating a burglary at the Breuer Donut Shop last Thursday night, but to date had received no fresh leads in the case.

William Bruer, 1252 34th avenue, reported to police last Friday that someone had burglarized his place during the night, taking approximately $100 from the register.

Evidently the burglar had managed to remain hidden in the shop until it was locked for the night. He then opened the register and took the larger bills, leaving about $12 in change. He then broke out through a rear room window.

CITY COUNCIL MEET SLATED MONDAY

The contract for construction of an underground pressure valve for Westlake is expected to be granted by the city council at their regular meeting Monday night.

Residents are cordially invited to attend the meeting which gets underway at 8 p.m. in City Hall, 75 Wellington avenue.

SF Pair Confess Truck Theft; Triple Accident

Two San Francisco youths have confessed to Broadmoor's runaway truck mystery, according to Broadmoor Police Chief Paul Schmidt.

The youths, 12 and 13 years old, were picked up by San Francisco police after they escaped from the youth detention home, where they were held for a previous crime.

They admitted on re-capture that they had stolen the truck in San Francisco on February 12 and were driving it when it struck an auto on Junipero Serra boulevard, then struck another car, then crashed through a filling station at the corner of Junipero Serra and 91st avenue, said Schmidt.

YOUTH INJURES LEG

Young John Ubaldio, 432 Clark street, Colma, was treated at Junipero Serra hospital Wednesday after he had fallen while playing at the Thornton school yard and injured his knee.

Third Meeting Of Chamber Is Held

The Daly City chamber of commerce held its third organizational meeting at the council chambers last Thursday, and backers now believe the organization is founded on a firm basis and will henceforth be a real factor in the community.

To date, 25 members have signed and paid their dues, and officials hope to swell the membership during the next few months.

At Thursday's meeting William T. Kennedy, of the Electric Company, was elected temporary president. Other temporary officers named were Dan Harris, manager of the Daly City branch of the Bank of America, vice-president; Alice Van Over, Hostess Service, secretary; and Walter Rector, & Pearson Insurance Co., treasurer.

Membership in the chamber of commerce is open to all professional and business men in Daly City, Colma, Westlake, Broadmoor and other areas in the northern end of the county. All interested in joining are asked to contact Kennedy, Plaza 5-1237, Harris, Plaza 5-6900, Mrs. Van Over, Plaza 5-0867, or Rector, Plaza 5-6808.

Charter memberships are being held open until October 1, 1952, and will be sold until that time at half price, or $12.50 for the fiscal year.

The next regular meeting of the chamber is scheduled at the council chambers at 8 p.m. June 5. Anyone interested, member or not, is invited to attend.

Cleanup Drive In Daly City Goes On Throughout Week

Daly City council for residents to collect all their combustible rubbish and have it on the curb in front of their homes. Two days remain in which the Daly City Scavenger company will pick up such rubbish at no cost to the individual.

On Monday, May 26, the area south of Wellington avenue and Hillcrest drive will be serviced, and on Thursday, May 29, a rubbish pickup of all the Westlake area will complete the cleanup. Rubbish should be put out by 8 a.m.

Chief Kennedy announced that his department will give a thorough fire inspection to any home whose owner requests it in conjunction with the cleanup.

"Over 3,000,000 houses in America were inspected last year for possible trouble spots," said Kennedy, "and we hope to do our share to maintain that record this year. We can't enter homes where we're not invited, but we'll be glad to give an inspection wherever requested."

The National Board of Fire Underwriters recently released a list of check-off points for home fire safety:

1. Clean out combustible rubbish from closets, the attic, the cellar, the basement, the garage, and any other family niches where it is likely to collect.
2. Dispose of gasoline, benzene, or other explosive liquids. Don't keep any of these fluids around the house.
3. Put oily rags, paint cloths in a covered metal container.

50 cents, and had eaten a few pieces of candy that he found. In escaping, he left his knife on the dining room table.

A check of taxicabs in the area by Chief Schmidt and Officer Don Tannehill disclosed that a man answering the burglar's description had taken a cab to the corner of Sickles and Mission streets. Checking with Belli, Schmidt and Tannehill found that one of Belli's former employees answered the burglar's description and lived one block from the Sickles and Mission corner.

Going to the house, they found Hines hiding under a bed, and took him into custody.

Burglary
He admitted to the burglary, said Schmidt, and was turned over to the County Sheriff's office in Redwood City.

Hines said he had just arrived from San Diego by United Air Lines, and took a cab to Broadmoor intending to visit the Bellis. He could not give an explanation for the burglary.

He said he had traveled through Mexico and the Southern California area since going AWOL 19 days ago.

Schmidt reports that Hines has a previous record of burglary in Daly City.

APPROACHING SCHOOL BUSES

Motorists approaching school buses that are loading or unloading children along the highway are obliged to come to a full stop before passing with caution, advises the National Automobile Club. If children may be irresponsible, motorists must not be.

and have made every reasonable test to determine whether these dogs are vicious. We have not been able to make any such determination and, therefore, feel the dogs should be returned to you.

"However, there can be no question that in the past the dogs have been teased by children and are dangerous if allowed to run in the presence of children."

The letter went on to specify that the dogs must be kept on leash when away from the Terrill's property, and that the yard to which they are confined must be made escape-proof. "If at any time the conditions of this release are violated," Dr. Chope's letter concluded, "it will be necessary for us to pick up the dogs and destroy them."

The letter was made public in response to demands made by Garden Village residents at a meeting last week between Dr. Chope and themselves.

At the meeting, Mrs. Leonard Stiller, mother of one of the children reportedly attacked, held up her daughters torn and bloody coat and asked that Dr. Chope prevent the dogs from returning to their owners.

Satisfied
Following receipt of a copy of the letter, Mrs. John L. Bergstresser, 107 Garden Lane, at whose home the meeting was held, said: "Dr. Chope's action is all right as far as I'm concerned. All we ask is that the dogs be confined within their own property."

"I noticed today, though, that some children ran into my yard to get away from stray dogs that were molesting them. What we most need here is permission for the Broadmoor police to pick up stray dogs, and a small pound such as Daly City has to hold them until the officials from Redwood City can pick them up."

Dr. Chope had previously stated that such action was unnecessary because the Humane Society will begin similar operations in the north county area by fall.

County Gets Taxes From San Francisco

The City and County of San Francisco paid property taxes totaling $326,489.94 to San Mateo county during the fiscal year 1951-52, according to a report released in San Francisco today by City Controller Harry D. Ross.

The taxes were paid on the city's $30,000,000 airport; Crystal Springs lakes, watersheds and aqueducts; Hassler Health Farm; Log Cabin Ranch; prison farm and golf course at Sharp Park.

In addition, nine San Mateo County cities were paid $18,638.41 taxes on property owned by San Francisco within their boundaries. These were:

Burlingame, $2,554.88; Daly City, $730.25; Hillsborough, $572.80; Millbrae, $5,472.79; Redwood City, $2,159.48; San Bruno, $1,817.62; San Carlos, $185.45; San Mateo, $1,054.17; and South San Francisco $4,090.97.

The city paid a total tax bill of $533,190.31 to other cities, counties and irrigation districts during the fiscal year, Ross' report revealed. Alameda county was second on the list, receiving a payment of $159,888.75.

ARM SIGNALS

Arm signals, not "hand signals," reminds the National Automobile Club, help prevent accidents.

PROVIDING SMOOTH MUSIC for the annual Firemen's Ball, slated for the Jefferson High school auditorium Saturday evening, will be Fredric Howard and his "Band of Gold." In addition to the dancing, many variety acts will be presented.

St. Michael's Guild Slates Festival

The parishioners of St. Michael's church are planning festivities for the week of June 6-8 by holding their 1952 Spring Festival in the new school auditorium at 55 Farallones St., between San Jose and Plymouth avenues.

Gordon Graham, who is designing the construction of the various booths, has promised the many chairmen, and their committees, that he will follow the beautiful simplicity of design of the new school auditorium in detail. They, in turn, will decorate their booths in their own individual tastes to make this festival outstanding.

For the children of the Parish there will be many activities. Jack Curtin has collected many prizes for his balloon and dart booth and Mrs. Floyd Ellison is busily working out unique details for her fish pond.

Mrs. Frank Nommellini has the very active, newly-formed Mother's Club diligently dressing dolls in multi-colored silks and laces which will be a delight to all the little girls.

Mrs. Joseph Dunne who will plan special treats for the children in the refreshment booth will be assisted by Mesdames Patrick Maguire, Louis Palmieri and Theodore Pechetti. The booth will also

Lions Club Hears Executive Talk At Wednesday Meet

Milton L. Baker, vice-president of the Oronite Chemical company, was the principal speaker Wednesday, May 21, at a Ladies Day luncheon of the combined Daly City-Colma Lions clubs.

Introduced by Gilbert O'Shaughnessy, representative of the Standard Oil company of California and past president of the Lions club, Baker spoke on "Chemicals from Petroleum." The luncheon was held at the Colonial restaurant on Junipero Serra boulevard.

In his talk, Baker emphasized the use of synthetic detergents and fabrics used in the manufacture of women's clothing, and how they are derived from petroleum products.

Well known in San Francisco business circles and an active lodge member, Baker was associated to the grown-up group with a variety of sandwiches, hamburgers, hot dogs and chili with homemade desserts and hot and cold beverages.

All of the arrangements are under the direct supervision of Mr. Timothy Curtin, general chairman. Rev. Francis Mulvihill is the honorary chairman.

Residents Should Get Their Sample Ballots by Sunday

The job of sending out 134,000 sample ballots started Monday in the San Mateo county election department.

County Clerk John A. Bruning said that 125 special employees started stuffing envelopes Monday, with 45 different types of ballots.

The job of mailing out the ballots should have been completed by midweek, and all voters should have them by week's end.

Bruning explained there were nine different ballot forms, due to the various district races in the county at the June 3 primary.

For each ballot form, there also are separate ballots for the non-partisans and each of the four parties—Republican, Democratic, Independent Progressives and Prohibitionists.

The Republican and Democrat ballots also will list the candidates for delegates to the national conventions at which the presidential candidates will be picked.

K. R. Maucly Completes AF Basic Training

Airman Kenneth R. Maucly, 17, son of Mrs. J. M. Maucly, 185 Santa Cruz avenue, has completed his AF basic airmen indoctrination course at Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

Lackland, situated near San Antonio, is the world's largest air force base, site of Air Force basic training, for men and women, headquarters of the Human Resource Research Center, and home of AF's Officer Candidate School.

His basic training is preparing him for entrance into Air Force technical training and for assignment in specialized work. The course includes a scientific evaluation of his aptitude and inclination for following a particular vocation and career.

Associated with the Standard Oil company for 32 years and is currently a member of the San Francisco Commercial club, Masonic Lodge, Scottish Rite and Islam Shrine.

Born in Albuquerque, N.M., he was educated in Los Angeles public schools and Polytechnic Institute. Baker is director in charge of marketing at the Oronite company, 38 Sansome street, San Francisco, in addition to his duties as vice-president.

Next week's speaker before the Lions club will be Jim Fox, director in charge of recreation and fishing facilities at Lake Merced. He will speak on proposed plans for a future Daly City-Colma fishing day at the lake.

DIFFICULT STARTING

It pays to let the starting motor rest if a reasonable period of cranking shows that the engine isn't going to start, says the California State Automobile Association. This not only gives the battery time to recover but allows the starting motor to cool off and helps prevent damage being done to it.

California has more tree farms than any other Western State.

Transportation Now Under Study

We understand Councilman Joseph Verducci is putting in a good many hours these days on the transportation problem. He and his committee are seeking an answer to one of the most perplexing problems in the growing pains of Daly City.

There is no easy answer to the transportation headache. However, we are firmly convinced an effort should be made to bring a private concern here to run a local bus system. The extension of San Francisco's service, while desirable, is hardly going to prove adequate. San Francisco has enough trouble of its own without looking for more in Daly City.

The Westlake Property Owners Association is now making a study, via questionnaire to each resident, of the Westlake transportation needs. Councilman Verducci hopes to extend a similar study to all of Daly City.

This is definitely a step in the right direction.

Only with the facts and figures before them can the council talk financial turkey with any private company, or for that matter, with San Francisco.

However, we will stand by our belief the only lasting answer is private enterprise. It seems to us the council would not have too much difficulty in interesting a company to put on two or three buses to at least act as shuttles between critical points here and the San Francisco system.

The important thing is to get action. This transportation question has been kicking around for so long no one is sure whether the city is doing anything but making promises, talking with this and that official and downing aspirin by the gross.

Councilman Verducci's committee is moving along the right trolley line. Now the thing to do is to get busses on that line before we all go off another sort of trolley.

Pioneer Days Gains Support

Last week readers will remember we called for a Pioneers Day celebration to fete the early pioneers and remind the late comers of Daly City's colorful history.

Frankly, we didn't get much of a written response on this one, although a lot of old and new timers agreed it was a good idea.

We can't take much credit for bringing this notion to the attention of local residents. As a matter of fact, it has long been the cherished brain child of A. J. Bodien, superintendent of public works and a "youngster" of close to 50 years in Daly City. He has graciously offered to forward any movement in this direction and asks interested pioneers to get hold of him...not an easy task, for Bodien is seldom in, being a busy city official.

By the way, Pioneer Days sounds like a worthy notion for the new Chamber of Commerce to follow through to a lucrative conclusion. We hope as the Chamber gets up a head of steam they will sit down and talk over the proposition with Bodien and The Record.

Firemen's Ball Slated Saturday

One of the annual major events of the Spring is coming up this Saturday in the Firemen's Ball. Anyone missing this dance and big entertainment event has missed much indeed.

We understand the firemen, under the capable leadership of Chief Elmer Kennedy, have lined up some TV talent superior to all this side of the living room set. This is a good chance for those without TV sets to see what goes on over the airways, and those owning TV to see some of their favorite stars without benefit of a screen.

And for you who like to dance, we are informed the orchestra is one of the finest on the west coast.

More important, of course, is the purpose of the dance. All the money raised from the Saturday evening affair will be used for youth work in the community. Consequently, even if you hate TV and dislike to dance, an investment in a ticket is an investment in youth. Any way you look at it, you can't lose by purchasing a ducat.

Everything should go well Saturday night. Of course, if there is a three alarm fire...? But the local blaze busters who have given so unselfishly of their time and energy need not worry...we hope.

Street Department Doing A Good Job

Daly City's street department deserves kisses and flowers today for the excellent job they are doing in repairing streets damaged by last winter's heavy rainfall.

We notice the majority of the axle breakers have been filled or are in the process of being repaired. Considering the rough job the boys in the street department had during the winter months, they have bounced back commendably well.

When it comes to streets there is always too much to be done. However, for those impatient dwellers who wonder why that particular hole in front of their driveway hasn't been filled yet, all we can say is: "Give the street department time."

Of course, if that condition drags through the summer we will be glad to write an editorial asking for action. But, in the meantime, the only editorial in order is one of commendation.

Something Was Lacking At Spring Fete

Despite the lack of a parade this year, we would like to say the Spring Festival was a booming success. However, we are afraid it was somewhat below the standards of past years.

This should not be construed as criticism of any group or individual talent. Matters along this line went well. Nor do we mean to subtract from the credit due those hundreds of volunteer workers who gave so generously of their time and effort to assure the success of the annual venture.

We would rather point out an obvious fact...a parade makes any show. The necessity for such a parade to arouse interest and hold it, should be obvious from the results of Sunday's fete.

There was little to be done about the cancellation of this year's march. However, it is to be hoped next year, when the parade will be under the jurisdiction of the Recreation Commission, we will have the grand march down Mission street.

Another item, perhaps incidental to the festival, was the lack of an efficient public address system. All too often the acts were lost in the empty void between the audience and the stage.

Not only do we need an adequate PA system for Marchbanks park, we need a permanent setup. A PA system during the rest of the year could be used to great advantage by the ball clubs.

Let's see now, that is two PA systems THE RECORD is plugging for...especially a much needed one in the city council chambers.

Thoughts On Memorial Day

I stood in the midst of a military cemetery that lay on a gently sloping hill. Far to the left and far to the right and up to the crest of the hill and beyond were rows of white crosses, each cross standing like a guard of honor for the man whose name it bore.

You can read about men dying in battle, about one, or a score or a hundred being killed in this place or that and it's just another news story. But you can't stand in the presence of those crosses—those many, many crosses—and not be appalled at the fruits of war.

Who were these young men? Where did each one come from? What were their hopes, their ambitions, their goals in life? Where did each one meet his tragic fate and why, WHY did he have to die?

Questions, but no answers. An emptiness inside and nothing to ease it. Then a prayer for peace, a real peace, a lasting peace, springs to the lips. But no words are spoken. Peace can be prayed for but this alone is not enough. It must be worked for. And as never before the individual responsibility for peace surges within. The promise to live better, to strive harder for a better world, fills the heart. These men must not have died in vain.

And they will not, if in your heart and mine that promise be kept.

Lake Merced Veterans' Group To Sell Poppies

Ever since June, 1950, when the fighting in Korea proved to Congress the serious need for an expansion of the Armed Forces, the veterans' welfare obligations of the Veterans of Foreign Wars have increased in proportion. This is why the members of Lake Merced Post No. 9921 must try to sell a total of 3,000 Buddy Poppies on Friday, May 23.

According to Commander Edward Diaz, additional relief funds will help meet the requirements of families of men in the Armed Forces whose dependency allowances are insufficient to provide for their present needs. Inflationary living costs have created serious hardships for families of veterans that are forced to subsidize on the allowances they receive from the federal government.

FROM A CORNER

Sitting in the wallflower bleachers at a recent social slaughter we contentedly cracked peanuts and waxed philosophical on the topic of dancing. Gazing over the floor of lunging double shuffle experts we sought to discover the golden key to a successful dancer.

We found the key, but it was corroded. At any rate, our findings on the fine art of agitating to music included:

1. The more common type of dancer is an amiable ape who covers up his lack of academic training by shuffling low over the floor. He sometimes miscalculates and plants a toe in his partner's shin. This is not sure to win him success, but it is conducive to his partner discovering what a fine conversationalist he is while sitting out the dances on the sidelines.

2. Then there is the boy with rhythm. He's got it all right, from the top of his pinpoint head to his blunt, big feet. One trouble . . . most of the motion is misplaced. Instead of telegraphing the sense of rhythm to his feet, he gets short circuited. He oscillates his shoulders and head in a fashion to do a ruptured jumping bean proud. He pumps his arm like a politician before election. All and all, he is not a very satisfactory type.

Another Wambler
3. The calculating dancer is a wambler of another cast. Every movement is fashioned after a dancing lesson. He is as wooden as a seesaw teetering between two fixed points. This type is rarely romantic, but makes good a husband. No one is sure why he makes a good husband, but we have it on authority.

4. A disquieting type of agitator is the jitterbug. He is usually a stoic fellow, happy to show as little emotion as possible while ripping up one side and pouring down the other of the dance floor. He is fond of chewing gum, and this tends to assure his companion he is a stable fellow for all his excessive motion. There are many types of jitterbugs, but our heart goes out to the one who is content to let his partner share all the glory. He stands happily in the middle of the floor, quiet except for a limp hand which he uses to launch and reel in his excited bayadere. The girls think he's great.

Quiet, Please
5. After 40 most men quiet down.

Then they take to courtly fox trots, hopping up and down in a disjointed motion. They perspire freely, laugh boisterously, and occasionally give up a cute blond to dance with their wives. Most men after 40, who are married, don't get to dances.

6. A specialized type of rotation is the folk dance. This appeals to the out-of-door, athletic brand of dancer. Squares and reels are involved processes, accompanied by loud shouts, much hand clapping and general good will. These morris dancers have recently met with popular acclaim. Partial to floundering over the boards, we take a dim view of the whole thing.

7. Some go for the Latin type. They surge like quiet waves over the floor, dipping and diving with a startling amount of skill. A good Latin dancer is rarely a Latin. Down south they gave this up long ago for siestas. South Americans, when they do patronize an orchestra, prefer to cavort through the Turkey Trot.

In conclusion, we recommend dancing to all those effervescent, restless simians who can't figure out what to do with Saturday night. As for us, we'll take a bag of peanuts and the zoo any night.

BIBBERO'S BABBLE

It was a fine sight to see the Greyhound busses rolling once again this week. Being a man who has acquired a sort of an automobile only recently, I could appreciate the helplessness of those thousands of citizens who depended on the busses to take them from one spot to another.

Funny thing, I have traveled over much of California, by bus during the past couple of years. I have even made the trip from California to Washington, D. C., riding one of the familiar metal monsters—but when I was much younger and in better shape. Each time I swore to myself never again.

There isn't much doubt that the busses, especially while wandering through the hinterlands of California, make little speed. They stop at every hamlet and village. The air conditioning is not always good. They are reasonably uncomfortable, as compared with the luxury of the modern auto. Night trips are bad. Sleep is nearly impossible, what with the lights popping on every few miles at stations, and people climbing in and out. But, they get you there. For the person without a car the bus is a lifesaver. They travel to each remote little town. When you climb aboard you know you will get to your destination, and when. And, they're cheap.

Yes. Quite a sight to see the big jobs back on the highways. Hope they stick around for a time.

Speaking of transportation, and this column seems to be full of it, I seem to remember one or two Daly City council candidates using transportation in this community as part of the campaign platform.

Considering the fact that the transportation problem here is worse than bad, it might be a good idea to remind the council of this situation, and to try and find a remedy.

Daly City is spread out considerably, and the problem of getting from one section to another is hard to solve, without an automobile. Bus service is inadequate as it stands.

This is a problem which should be considered by the council very seriously. It affects a lot of people.

Might as well enjoy this beautiful weather while you can. It probably won't last long. Summer fog is right around the corner, they tell me. Not having been a resident here long, I can't speak with authority, but each time the grey fog sweeps in from the ocean, dripping on the pavement, old time residents gleefully tell me it's typical summer weather. Great thing. Seems the really fine weather waits until the fall months. However, this past week has been something—plenty of sun and warmth.

According to all we hear, the Spring Festival was enough of a success to please everyone. However, there is little doubt the lack of a parade did a share of damage. Maybe next year the commission can work it out so the residents of the city may enjoy the parade, even without the use of the football field.

HOLLYWOOD

Two years ago I saw "Death of a Salesman" on the stage and came out of the theatre tremendously moved by what I considered an indictment of our commercial culture.

As Thomas Mitchell portrayed Willy Loman, the worn-out salesman who had spent his life peddling intangibles, putting on a false front, completely bamboozled by the myth of the American success story, he was a hugely tragic figure, significant because he reflected in his attitudes and his collapse thousands of his fellows.

The other night I saw the movie version of the same play with Frederic March enacting the lead. It too was gripping and absorbing but the net effect was different. No longer did "Death of a Salesman" call to the bar of judgment an entire mercenary civilization. It was a tragic story still but it was blatantly just a story, an imaginary case history of one man and his family.

What had happened, I wondered, in the mechanics of transposing the play onto film to reduce its significance and impact? Some may think the answer is the simple one that stage plays are inherently more dramatic than motion pictures. But I can't go along with that school of thought. I saw both the stage and movie versions of "Streeter Named Desire" and found the movie version much stronger than the play. Of course in this case the playwright, Tennessee Williams, did the screen play too whereas Arthur Miller's play was reworked by someone named, if I remember the screen credit correctly, Stanley Roberts. What had gone wrong with the movie?

The actors in the cinema version were at least as capable as those on the stage and Frederic March for one was considerably more skillful than Mitchell as the lead. The movie settings were realistic and appropriate to action, while the camera ranged throughout the city, free of the limitations of the stage. The photography was good, the sound track was clear and the music underscored the emotional peaks and valleys.

Technically the movie had everything the stage play had, only more of it and in better quality. Still, something was lacking. What? Pondering the question, I've decided it must have been the dialogue that was watered down and weakened.

Writing this without either the play or the scenario at hand, I must rely on memory to detect changes. But changes there were and each one subtracted from the whole until at the end the total was vastly less.

The suicide scene also was treated differently. Brother Ben, the entrepreneur who started out for Alaska but, due to a faulty notion of geography, wound up in Africa making a fortune, was given increased importance. As extra footage was devoted to Ben he became more of a caricature than a typical example of the rugged individualist who sacrifices all to the profit motive.

The subtractions from the Arthur Miller text were often seemingly small ones. For instance, in the play Miller has the materialistic business man arguing with Willy Loman about that delusion of his that the key to success is being "well-liked." Says the businessman: "In a Turkish bath, J. P. Morgan looked like a butcher. But when he had his pockets on he was well liked." Or words to that effect.

In the movie the dialogue went like this: "I once knew a man who had a lot of money. In a Turkish bath he looked like a butcher but when he was wearing his pockets he was well liked." A minor change but a weakening one. All of us have some kind of mental image of J. P. Morgan and for many of us this coincides with the stereotype of a heavy-jowled butcher. Apparently, Columbia Pictures was afraid of antagonizing Wall Street and the Morgan firm so they knocked that out and substituted "there was once, a man."

In the above instance it was a matter of substituting the general for the specific. Elsewhere the picture substituted the specific for the general, so that where Willy Loman on the stage represented a

Memorial Services Will Be Held At Cypress Lawn

Homage will be paid Friday, May 30, at 2 p.m. to the dead who gave their lives fighting in America's wars, and the Gold Star families they left behind.

At that time, annual Memorial Day services at Cypress Lawn Memorial park will be held in the "Garden of Meditation." Speaker of the day will be the Rev. Rev. Benton S. Gaskell, of the Congregational church of San Mateo, who will speak on "Building On Our Memories."

Asking that "we may be saved from a blind patriotism and brought to a love of country which is founded on a deeper love for God," the Reverend Gaskell will also present the invocation and benediction at the services.

The complete program: an organ prelude, "Remembrance," played by J. Nolo Miller; the invocation; a solo, "I Heard A Forest Praying," sung by Carl Schlaegel; Rev. Gaskell's address; solo, "Recessional," by Schlaegel; the benediction; and an organ postlude, "The Rosary," played by James H. Stevenson.

Emphasizing the dedicatory nature of the coming services, Rev. Gaskell said, "Those who gave so much have left us the responsibility of purging our country of hypocrisy and corruption and making her strong. We must strive anew for justice among all people and to seek for the ways of peace."

The service is open to all who wish to attend.

Mr. William J. Conboy
Teamsters Union, Local No. 70
828 West Street
Oakland, California

Dear Bill:

Some time ago at a meeting of the San Mateo County Labor League for Political Education, one of our delegates relayed some misinformation relative to alleged anti-labor rulings made by Candidate Bocci. This action was probably somewhat instrumental in resulting in the endorsement of his opponent, Mr. Becker.

Soon after this meeting the error was discovered by our delegate, who thereupon made every possible effort, with the active assistance of officers of this Union, to affect a reconsideration and reversal of this endorsement. These men failed after several diligent efforts.

Needless to say, we are extremely embarrassed by this unfortunate mistake, since we wholeheartedly believe in the fairness and honesty of Mr. Bocci and will give him our unqualified support for a smashing success in the coming election.

Annual Pilgrimage Of Catholic Society Is Postponed

The annual Pilgrimage of the Little Company of St. Joseph for the Dying to the Monastery of the Poor Clare Nuns at Capitola has been postponed from Declaration Day, May 30th, to Columbus Day, October 12th, it was announced yesterday by Father Alfred Boedeker, O. F. M., spiritual director of the Company.

During the past thirteen years the pilgrimage has been made on Decoration Day, alternating between the Monastery of St. Joseph at Capitola and that of the Immaculate Heart of Mary at Los Altos.

The reason for the change in the date this year is the projected removal of the nuns from Capitola to the new site donated to them in Phelan Park at Santa Cruz, for which ground will be broken on Columbus Day, according to present plans.

Members of the Little Company and other friends of the nuns who wish to continue the Memorial Day tradition by making a private visit to the Monastery have been invited to do so. Others are being asked to join in a "spiritual pilgrimage" by sending their intentions to be placed on the altar of the Capitola Monastery.

Groups from San Francisco, Oakland, San Jose, Stockton, and other points, are making arrangements to participate in the Pilgrimage on Columbus day.

Water Games Enjoyed By Local Girl Scouts

Girl Scouts from Troop No. 13 attended a swimming party at the Young Athletic Club in San Mateo last Friday.

From 5:30-6:30 p.m. the girls swam, played water games and earned credits toward swimming badges. After the swim, the Scouts gathered at the home of Violet Brown, co-leader for a picnic supper. Here they got further credits towards badges for planning parties.

On May 8 a Mother's Day dinner was staged by the girls, at which they prepared and served the meal.

Guys who lug sample cases and smile and smile, trying to raise a family on a salesman's commission, that gave the stage play its dramatic impact.

All this seems to be knocking the movie, which was not my intention when I started. It was a good movie, superior to most. But sadly inferior to the play.

Outgoing Regent Is Honored By Court St. Mary At Lunch

Charities Reviewed For Past Two Years

At the May 15 meeting of Court St. Mary No. 1155, Catholic Daughters of America, members turned out to honor Mrs. Richard J. Ennis, outgoing grand regent who held office for a full two years.

Preceding the meeting Mrs. Frank McDermott, entertainment chairman, introduced Virginia Heathcoat, who played a piano solo, "Indian Love Call." The contralto solo, "A Perfect Day," and dedicated to the outgoing grand regent, was sung by Agatha Heyden, accompanied by Joseph DeLeon on the violin and Virginia Heathcoat on piano.

During the course of the meeting Mrs. Ennis gave the members a resume of charities and events during her term in office, with $1,577.37 raised for charities. The charity work done by the group included scholarships for school children, seminary funds for the priesthood, refreshments for patients in local veteran hospitals, 40 pounds of leper bandages to hospitals in leper colonies in Africa, 2,000 cancer pads for incurable cancer patients in non-profit hospitals in the east, 400 Christmas cards for prisoners at Folsom prison.

Baby layettes for war relief services in Europe, helping to outfit a communion class of 70 orphan Navajo Indian children in Arizona, providing more than 650 religious articles to inmates of the Laguna Hnda Home for the Aged, keeping the later in Fort Miller Hospital supplied with fresh flowers, collecting 2,350 pounds of used clothing for Korean War refugees, and providing prizes and entertainment for boys in veteran hospitals.

After the reports Mrs. Ennis congratulated Mrs. Rose McNab, the new grand regent, and wished her luck in her forthcoming term. Mrs. Ennis closed her last meeting with a prayer for the boys fighting in Korea.

Members then gathered for lunch at a beautifully decorated table, piled with gayly wrapped gifts from friends.

Chairman for the evening was Mrs. Hans Schroeder, assisted by her committee members: Mesdames Arthur Heyden, George Rode, G. W. Ryan, Richard McDonough, Alice McLaughlin, Charlotte Gonzales, Albina Holmes and Rose Gardella.

Jeffs Make PAL Playoffs

THIS IS THE DELIVERY that brought Jeff hurler Don Delbon a one-hit victory Friday last over South San Francisco. Delbon and running mate Joe Lewkowitz have borne the brunt of local pitching chores this season after coming up from last year's frosh-soph team with high reputations. Delbon authored four of the Jeff's seven wins thus far, and is chalked up with two of their three defeats. His win at South City put the Jeffs in a tie for second spot in the final PAL standings, and guaranteed them a berth in the championship playoffs.

Shotgunners To Get Bigger Pheasant Bags

There'll be less pheasants released, but more birds bagged by California hunters, if a new Fish and Game Commission program of stocking game farm pheasants works out.

The policy was adopted at the Commission's May meeting in Alameda. It was generally approved by organized sportsmen's groups.

Until now, state game farms have released birds in two batches, the first being set out in mid-summer, and the second group hitting cover shortly before hunting season.

Of the first liberations, about 40 per cent of the total production, 20 per cent found their way into the hunters' bag. The rest just melted away before the season opened, for various reasons.

But of the birds released in November, just before hunting season, up to 70 per cent were bagged. And the total annual State game farm production for the past three years has averaged 100,000 birds.

The new policy, recommended to the Commission by Ben Glading, chief of game conservation, will cut annual production to 50,000 birds, the vast majority of which will be planted just before the season opens in areas where they do hunters the most good.

Breeding stock will be planted after the hunting season in carefully considered areas where Department game managers know there's insufficient breeding stock and habitat good enough for year-round survival.

As in all end-of-season series, though, it is quite possible that a weak fourth place team can squeeze through to win. This possibility makes it fairly certain that at least four Peninsula coaches are keeping their fingers permanently crossed these days.

Delbon Hurls One-Hitter To Earn Locals A Crack At The Championship

Don Delbon returned to his hurling chores at Friday's wind-up game with South City, threw himself a one-hit ball game, and cinched the Jeffs a berth in the PAL playoffs.

Downing their final regularly scheduled opponents 8-1 put the Jeffs in a tie with San Mateo for second place. Top spot holder at the present time is Palo Alto, but nominal standings at this point will mean little in the days to come.

Tomorrow, Friday, May 23, Delbon and teammates tangle with Palo Alto in game number one of a best-two-out-of-three series. Second game will be played next Tuesday, and the third—if necessary—will wind up the series next Friday. Then come the finals.

Opponents are hoping that the Jeff's loss last year of excellent Eddie Cereghino will mean the end of their two-year death grip on the league championship. But their second place standing shows that the team can still play ball, even if—as must be granted—not as spectacularly as with their former mound ace.

(Cereghino, it might be added, threw a four-hit shut out Sunday for Kansas City, Yankee farm club.)

The South San Francisco game found Delbon, who turned over the Jeff pitching business to Joe Lewkowitz earlier in the season, doing his best work since coming up from last year's frosh-soph squad.

One single in the fourth inning was all he could see his way clear to grant, and no score was made on it, though the Warrior's lone run was picked up in the same frame.

Coach Clarence Lair's local boys did much better for themselves at the plate. In the second they opened their swing fest with one run and followed it in the third with six men coming across home plate.

With bases loaded, principally due to errors, Delbon helped win his own ball game by singling and driving home one run. Right fielder Chuck Maynard then stepped up and blasted four teammates over.

Maynard's clout was a liner that struck South City right fielder Golfredo Dina in the chest and sent him out of the ball game.

That put the Jeffs into the playoffs, and it was no surprise. They have been in for 13 years straight, and by this time should feel quite at home in the tussle. Only four of those 13 years, however, found them victors.

In 1935 and '37 they took the trophy, and repeated in '50 and '51. The 1950 championship they won from Sequoia. Last year it was San Mateo. Both years, Eddie Cereghino was on the mound, of course.

Winner of the Jeff-Palo Alto series will meet top dog of the San Mateo-Lincoln games for the 1952 championship.

As in all end-of-season series, though, it is quite possible that a weak fourth place team can squeeze through to win. This possibility makes it fairly certain that at least four Peninsula coaches are keeping their fingers permanently crossed these days.

Cub 'Olympics' Set For Sunday; Lions Meet Upcoming

No need to travel to Europe to watch the Olympic games this year. Just toddle down to Jefferson high school at 1:30 p.m. this Sunday, May 25, and take in the Broadmoor Cub Scouts, Pack 84, Annual 16-Event Track and Field Olympics.

Over 60 entrants, in the peak of physical training and ranging in age from eight to 10 years, will be competing in all manner of track and field events.

Trophy cups will be awarded not to the top performer, not to the top two performers, but to the three-count 'em—entrants garnering the most points. Ribbons will go, according to age grouping, to the winning youngster in each event.

Seven dens will be entered in all, and each will be represented with a relay team. Winning den of the seven will receive a ribbon, which will be presented along with trophies and individual ribbons at the Pack 84 meeting in June.

Wearily bystanders will find refreshments on sale at the meet, according to Lorraine Monks, publicity chairman of the pack, and no admission charge will be made.

Two weekends later will find another meet in progress on the Jeff oval, when the Daly City Lions club holds its fourth annual track meet on Sunday, June 8. The conclave will begin at 11 a.m.

Restricted to seventh and eighth graders, the Lions affair will be supervised by Daniel Siemes, of the Daly City recreation department, with fourteen local Lions acting as judges.

Medal awards will go to the grade-school winners in the various events and honor awards will go to second and third placers.

Nine events are scheduled for the yearly meet, one of the many youth-benefit programs sponsored annually by the Lions. The events are: softball throw for accuracy, softball throw for distance, standing broad jump, running broad jump, football throw for accuracy, high jump, shot put, 50 yard dash, and a 200 yard relay.

The meet will last approximately two hours.

SARTO AC WINS 13-2; POMONA TILE NEXT

Ed Milano returned to the Sarto AC club Sunday with a bang. Or to be more explicit, a single his, first time at the plate and a three-run homer the second.

The homer left no doubt that Milano was adequately recovered from injuries sustained while playing ball for the University of California, and it contributed nicely to the Sarto club's 13-2 win over San Francisco Naval shipyard.

Also doing his share was the club's leading hitters, catcher Heine Schubach, who hit four runs for four plays to the plate. His team mates one and all got into the act—with the single exception of Ben Parodi—by each taking at least one trip down the base paths.

On the mound, Bill Rainey and Don Deluzio shared the hurling chores for four and five innings, respectively. Rainey granted no hits, Deluzio gave up three, and between them they accounted for six strike-outs.

Next game for the locals is slated for Marchbanks field this Sunday, with the Sartoites meeting the Pomona Tile nine. They will be strengthened by the return of John Aleese and Tito Sarto from USF play. Sarto has a good mound-record for the college team, and Aleese totted up a better than .300 hitting record for them.

Jeffs Sluggers Open Intra-Mural Meet

A war-like clan—the students of Jeff high. When not competing with other schools in the various team sports, they put on the gloves and try a little personal combat among themselves.

So Coach Joe McGrath reports that he's had 30 would-be Ray Robinsons working out at least one hour per day for the past two weeks in order to earn themselves the right to enter an intra-mural slugfest that opens tomorrow afternoon.

Preliminary bouts in eight weight classifications begin at 3:15 o'clock Friday, with the number of contenders gradually diminishing through the semi-finals, Monday, May 26. After the finals next Wednesday, there should be one top slugger in each division.

To keep the Jeff gym reasonably free of bloodstains, each contestant will wear headgear and use the big, 14-ounce gloves.

Judges for the tourney will be Dean of Boys Glenn South, Coach Michael Orlich, and John Matthews. McGrath will referee the three two-minute rounds of each bout.

Brown Loses In State Tournament

Tom Brown, Daly City's lawyer-tennis ace, came up against defending champion Herb Flam in the semi-finals of the State Championships at Berkeley, and lost 6-4, 7-5, 6-4.

Former Davis Cupper Brown was third seeded in the tourney, following his recent string of wins in lesser court tournaments. The loss set him down exactly according to estimates, but the seeding proved not altogether accurate when number two man Art Larsen took the title away from favored Flam in Sunday's finals.

Brown and Larsen have both shown in recent matches, and observers claim that they have been playing the best tennis of their individual careers. The more capricious tendencies of the game, though, were illustrated at the Berkeley meet.

Not long ago, at La Jolla, Brown downed Larsen in singles play, and two weeks ago in Los Angeles, the positions were reversed in the finals of the annual Southern California championships.

To add to the complications, Brown was state champ in 1950, turning it over to Flam, who in turn, gave it to Larsen.

This sort of goings on makes it impossible to discount either Flam or Brown in future tourneys. In tennis, the man you beat yesterday is consoling you tomorrow.

Livermore Rodeo Slated For Early Presentation

Billed as the world's fastest, the famed Livermore Rodeo gets under way Saturday and Sunday, June 7 and 8. Two days of jam-packed thrills are promised for the meet.

Dare-devil sons of the saddle will bring back days of the Old West. Trick and fancy riders and ropers from far and near will compete for fame, glory and thousands of dollars in prize money.

The Livermore Rodeo plant is the biggest in existence, with 25 chutes from which savage outlaw broncs can break.

On Saturday morning, June 7, there will be a mammoth downtown parade in Livermore, featuring bands, drill teams, stage coaches, covered wagons, marching units and riders.

That afternoon and Sunday, June 8, will see track and arena events performed by some of America's greatest cowboys and cowgirls. Included will be a stock-horse contest, palomino parade and junior events.

Livermore is 44 miles east of Daly City, on Highway 50.

The United States Weather Bureau at the San Francisco Airport is the longest West of Chicago.

North-Coast Meet Over; Trackmen To Hollister Friday

Al Schenone, Jefferson's fleet "B" division runner, strode across the 660 yard finish line a close second to his traditional rival, San Mateo's Atterburn. And that is as near as the Jeffs came to fame in the North Coast finals Saturday at Berkeley.

Schenone also took part in the only other local entry, the "B" relays, but he and teammates Yarborough, Webb and Hamann failed to score.

Tomorrow, Friday, May 23, the team travels to Hollister for the 19th annual relays there. Coach Ernie Ribera has them entered in the 440 yard run, but the big push will be in the sprint medley, which includes longer distances more to the local boys' liking.

Hamann will lead off in that one with 110 yards to go before passing the baton. Then Webb will take it for 220, Yarborough for 330, and anchorman Schenone for 660.

At the North Coast, Atterburn broke the 660 tape at 1:27.3. He and Schenone have been trading wins with each other throughout the season, and locals consider it unfortunate that the big North Coast meet had to find the San Matean taking his turn on top.

The longer medley runs at Hollister, Ribera reports, should give his "B" speedsters a chance to stretch their legs and possibly make a better showing for themselves.

BECKER PRESENTS FACTS OF NEW COURT

As a candidate for the new Municipal Court, Judge Charles Becker, am grateful to the editor of this newspaper for this opportunity to bring directly to the people the whole story and true facts concerning this new Municipal Court and my qualifications to preside as the first judge of this new court for the Northern District of San Mateo County.

At the general election in 1950 the people adopted a constitutional amendment reorganizing the lower court system throughout the state, and by their overwhelming vote the people made known their desire to have this change. As a result, San Mateo County was divided into three Municipal Court Districts: the Northern with one judge, the Central with one judge, and the Southern with two judges.

The purpose of this change, so far as the Northern District is concerned, was to abolish and replace all of the part-time Justices of the Peace and City Courts, and replace them with a full-time Municipal Court with a much higher and broader jurisdiction.

Under the Municipal Court system all of the new Municipal judges must be lawyers, and must have had at least five years experience in the practice of law before election. This is a considerable change over the present Justices of the Peace and City Court system.

In order to permit the Municipal Court judges to perform their duties without the pressure of frequent elections, the judges of this new court will hold office for a six year term; therefore, so far as the Northern District is concerned there will be only one judge to whom the people can submit their matters for a period of six years.

SAGEHORN DEDICATED TO EFFICIENT GOVT.

A pledge to "restore that meaningful word 'efficiency' to the federal dictionary" was voiced this week by veteran County Treasurer Al Sagehorn, candidate for Congress from San Mateo county at the June 3 elections.

"It actually seems to be a philosophy with the present administration that since they are dealing with a national budget of 85 billions, there is little use in trying to reduce expenses anywhere unless some obvious saving of at least a hundred million can be made," Sagehorn commented.

His thrifty Nebraska wheat rancher parents, Sagehorn added, had taught him that the best way to save a dollar was a penny at a time.

"I am convinced—and if sent to Washington will work unceasingly for—a definite program to save as much as we can. With a few thousand here and a few thousand there, we can very quickly run the savings into the billions. That means a return to balance budgets, reductions in the public debt, and a big step toward cutting taxes."

Sagehorn said that his 17 years of experience as San Mateo County Treasurer had proved to him that "... the recklessness with which our tax dollars are being spent in Washington today cannot possibly lead to other than financial disaster and economic ruin."

BOCCI BACKER DECRIES OPPONENTS TACTICS

A special press release by Richard Lyons, north end attorney and campaign manager for Judge Thomas Bocci's election as Municipal Judge reveals that the three Superior Court Judges of this county have no inclination for Judge Bocci's opponent as was indicated in a release earlier in the month.

Lyons stated that he had talked to each of the three Superior Judges, who informed him that they did not lean either way, that in fact they did not know Judge Bocci's opponent, having met him for the first time within the past two months.

Lyons further stated that one of the three Judges made mention to the fact that they were familiar with Judge Bocci's work in the First Township Court and knew that he has carried on the work of the Court in a fair and highly dignified manner. Bocci could not be reached for comment, however, Lyons revealed that he expected to obtain a written declaration from the three Judges as to the truth of this matter.

Lyons further decied the brazen efforts of Judge Bocci's opponent to mislead the public and to place the three Superior Judges in an unfavorable light.

Gaggero's Record Spearheads Campaign

Anthony J. Gaggero, candidate for Supervisor of San Mateo county, has cited his record both as a public official and while actively engaged in civic work as worthy of voter support on Tuesday, June 3rd.

"If the record means anything at all, I believe my fair and impartial judgement in matters affecting the welfare and progress of the entire county well merits the support of San Mateo County voters on June 3rd." So stated Gaggero yesterday in furthering the efforts of his hard-working Campaign Committee. Listed among important posts held by Gaggero during the past ten years were:

Councilman of Daly City from 1942 up to the present time; Mayor of Daly City, three terms; Vice-Chairman, San Mateo Civil Service Commission, 1945 to the present time; Director, San Mateo County Fiesta, 1945 to the present time; President, San Mateo County Sanitation District, 1951 to present time; member, San Mateo County Grand Jury, 1935-36; Director, San Mateo County Chapter, American Red Cross; Treasurer, Children's Health Home (formerly Preventorium); member, Elks, Foresters, Eagles, Druids, Italian-American Club.

Adoption Law Revisions Needed

Revisions in the state social welfare program aimed at expediting adoption of children were advocated today by Thomas Jenkins, Democratic candidate for the state assembly, 25th district.

Citing a recent case in the north county, Jenkins said a family who wished to adopt a child was forced to wait over one year for any action. In desperation, the family finally turned to Europe, and at considerable expense, adopted a German boy.

The present adoption laws are needed, but too much "red tape" is involved, Jenkins believes. He also believes too much power is in the hands of individual social workers who often allow trivial matters to delay an adoption.

"There is no excuse for our present system," Jenkins declared.

"After all, lives are involved here and there is no room for any more red tape than necessary."

The Broadmoor attorney advocates designating powers to a laymen board, made up of prominent civic leaders, churchmen and those dealing with such problems on a

MARKOVICH GAINING MORE & MORE SUPPORT

Increasing popular support of Peter Markovich's bid for the state assembly was evident here today with the announcement of the names of his many sponsors.

Leading civic leaders supporting Markovich include: Paul Green, Frank Blum, Jim and Bill Kennedy; Frank Lombardi, Al Willie and Alexander Pannella to name a few.

"We believe Markovich is the man for the assembly, because he is one of us," Lombardi said today. "He truly represents the people, not any power interests."

As he actively campaigns throughout the new 25th district, Markovich is finding more and more residents giving him their support. They feel he is the one candidate who fully understands their problems.

"It is my intention to introduce measures in the assembly which will benefit every taxpayer in the county and throughout the state," Markovich declared.

Briefly outlining his platform this week, Markovich said he was for building badly needed schools, improving highways, keeping the tax rate within bounds and putting an end to lobbying.

Markovich, who resigned his membership on the Jefferson high school board to run for the assembly, lives in Broadmoor with his wife and three sons. A Daly City insurance broker, Markovich is a popular civic and business leader.

Such a board could act in an advisory capacity, and would expedite the present adoption system," Jenkins declared.

These boards would be especially helpful when a family is refused a child for some minor technicality. The board could step in and determine whether the refusal was actually justified.

Labor Leader Aids Creedon Assembly Bid

Albert H. Randall, long-time San Mateo County labor leader, heads the list of prominent union men supporting Judge Daniel J. Creedon in his bid for election to the State Assembly as a representative from the newly-created 25th district.

Included in the list active in Creedon's campaign are Charles Seafuse, secretary of the Building and Construction Trades Council and the following Business Representatives of labor: Robert Wertz and Irving Rupp, Plumbers and Steamfitters Union local 467; Michael B. O'Connor, Hod Carriers Union local 97; Thomas H. Price, Plasterers Union local 381; Kenneth M. Hoyer, Painters Union local 913 and J. J. Minehan, Carpenters Union local 848. In urging San Mateo county union members and their families to vote for Creedon at the June 3rd primary, Randall said today:

"Danny Creedon is a long-time friend of labor and a card-carrying member of an AFL union. He has worked with his hands, as a carpenter's apprentice, a truck driver and a laborer. Consequently he knows from first-hand experience the problems of labor. As a practicing attorney, he currently represents a number of labor unions. If we elect him to the State Assembly, we can be assured the interests of labor in the 25th district will be safe-guarded."

Four years ago Senator Parkman won both Democratic as well as Republican party nomination in the Primary election.

In accepting the leadership post, Mrs. Brown pointed out that Senator Knowland "was one of the first in our country to recognize the true menace of Communism in Asia," and that he had consistently voiced in Congress the now apparent need for maintaining Nationalist China as a strong ally.

Police Warn Drivers Of School Bus Stopping Law

Motorist were reminded today it is mandatory to stop for a school bus when the bus is flashing a red light.

Officer Henry Sundermann said the law holds true for traffic on a two lane highway regardless of what lane the bus is in. According to Section 533 of the California Vehicle Code, all cars approaching a school bus with "red lights flashing" are required to stop. Motorist must remain at a standstill until the red light is turned off.

"We are having some trouble, especially on Hillside boulevard where there are three school bus stops," Sundermann said. "Too many people are not aware of the law, and we have had to issue traffic citations."

Officers Sundermann reports he has had few gripes, for motorists in the wrong are quick to realize the wisdom of the law directed to saving lives of school children.

Arrest Parolee On Check Charge

The quick eye of George Glasse, owner of the Hilltop Market, 6315 Mission, resulted last week in the arrest of James H. McArthur, of San Jose, who was booked by police on investigation of trying to pass a bad check.

McArthur tried to cash the check at the market, but Glasse, who said later he thought there was something "fishy" about the man, said he couldn't cash it. McArthur then said he would go across the street to cash the check and return for his groceries.

Glasse called police, who nabbed McArthur, a three-time loser on parole from San Quentin. He was held for parole authorities.

AVOIDING HEADLIGHT GLARE
Brightness is not the infallible test for headlight bulbs, advises the National Automobile Club. If examined carefully, it will frequently be found that they should be replaced even though rather brilliant. The reason is that when the filament becomes bent it throws the beams out of focus and the result is a glaring headlight.

Police today warned Daly City residents to keep their cars in garages at night, if they don't want to lose their batteries.

For the second time in two weeks motorists have reported checking their cars in the morning, only to find the batteries missing.

The last raid took place sometime early Saturday morning, and four batteries were lifted by the gang.

Whether or not it was the work of juveniles police were unable to say. They are continuing investigations.

Spring Festival Plays To Full House At Jeff Field Sunday

The fifth annual Daly City Spring Festival played to a full house Sunday at the Jeffers Union high school field and a large crowd seemed to enjoy the show thoroughly.

Spectators could not all find seats in the stands and the overflow crowd filtered onto the field. It is estimated that 2,500 people watched Mayor Paul Green crown Queen Judith Logan in the opening ceremonies.

The spectacle which followed brought applause from the spectators. The following dance studios were partially responsible for the success of the show: Jota's Studio of Dance, Carol F. Dance Studio, Louise Andre Dancing Dolls, and Bunnie Carroll Studio of Dance.

Brownie Troop 12, directed by Mrs. Pearl Craine, and the D. City recreation department dancers under the direction of M. Pabst, added to the folk dance array. The Jefferson high school band and chorus provided musical entertainment.

The lack of a parade this year was felt, but the department tried to make up for it with a more elaborate program at the field.

The department wishes to thank all those who made the spectacle possible, including the following: the queen's committee, directed by Mrs. Carruthers, Mrs. Gre and Mrs. Swager; the Daly City Band, directed by George Brenner; the dance studios mentioned above; the mothers of the youngsters participating; the P groups under the direction of Mrs. Eason, Mrs. Prisco and M. Kruss; who furnished the refreshments; and special thanks to the Daly City Garden Club, under the direction of Mrs. Garrison, for beautiful decorations.
